CLASSIFYING MR. HENRY

Democratic editors are attempting to make much of the fact that Francis J. Heney, of California, a Progressive in 1912, has written a letter in which he tendered to President Wilson the Heney support for 1916. But in parading Mr. Heney the Democratic editors are not only magnifying his importance as a figure in the Progressive party, but are sailing their barges under false colors.

Mr. Heney never was a Republican and never professed to be one. In the biographical sketch he contributed to the Who's Who in America, for 1908-1909, 1910-1911 and 1912-1913, he called himself a Roosevelt Democrat. His right to sit on a proxy in the Republican National Committee in 1912 was questioned, on this ground. His talk of Barnes foreing the nomination of Hughes is an example of his habitual recklessness of statement. Barnes was opposed to the nomination of Hughes and the Roosevelt libel suit showed his animosity was of long standing. Mr. Heney, had he been franker, would have mentioned the criticisms he heaped on Hiram Johnson when the latter was re-elected governor of California in 1914 by 188,505 plurality, while Heney, running on the same ticket, was defeated for United States senator by 24,664. Johnson is for Hughes and anti-Johnson delegation from California voted for Hughes on every ballot at Chicago. Mr. Heney has personal reasons for becoming a Wilson instead of a Roosevelt Democrat.

The Progressive leaders are lining up almost solidly in support of Hughes. There are very few exceptions, and these refer mostly to qualified cases or to leaders of minor capacity. Practically every Progressive daily and weekly newspaper in the country is out for Hughes. The only Progressive paper of note that has not come on squarely for Hughes is the Kansas City Star. That paper is saying nothing against Hughes and nothing for Wilson. There are signs that it will, before the campaign reaches the zenith, be enlisted as one of the most earnest and influential of the Progressive newspapers supporting Hughes.—Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

MICHIGAN

As Mining Country, Owes Fame to Genius of Agassiz, Says Holland First to Discover the Mineral Riches of Upper Peninsula

—Furnaces Made in Copper, Iron Ore and Lumber.

New York, July 23.—Alexander Agassiz's business career is coincident in point of time with the life of the great copper mines of the Northern Peninsula of Michigan. It is half a century since this mining company was organized by Agassiz, and at the fiftieth anniversary, a few days ago, Henry L. Higginson, of Boston, spoke to a large gathering at Calumet, Mich., words of compliment and praise.

Mr. Agassiz's professional career was of greater length than his business career, for he was already known as a most worthy son of a distinguished family when he ventured into Northern Michigan with intent to take hold of the copper properties. To the world of science he is as well known today as he is to the world of business, and this is a very rare achievement for any man.

The fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Calumet and Hecla mining property would have justified had Mr. Higginson been so disposed, some reference to the relation which this industry bears to the prosperity of the United States to the increasing wealth and especially to the development of the brass industry, in which the United States leads the world.

Future Looked Bright

First of all, the riches yielded by the mines under the leadership, professional and business of Mr. Agassiz, were in the early years of the corporation the first evidence that the long despised and neglected upper peninsula of Michigan was to gain pre-eminence as the richest region in the United States of like area, excepting possibly one or two in California. The peninsula was despised in the early years of our Government and was tossed back and forth.

It was known that the Indians had discovered and made use of copper, but there was no promise of great development of these copper riches. When Mr. Agassiz took hold of the property the United States was producing less than 1,000 tons of copper a year. Within a few years we were producing nearly 15,000 tons of copper, and the amount increased yearly until last we gained pre-eminence as a copper-producing nation.

When these Northern Michigan copper mines were yielding abundantly there came the discovery of enormous deposits of iron ore in the upper peninsula. The exploitation of these mines was one of the great achievements of the country. Then lumbermen who had utilized much of the timber of Pennsylvania and some of the timber of New England went to the northern peninsula and found pine trees which upon experiment were found to yield the finest kind of lumber, and these they cut and marketed in enormous amounts.

Romance in Discoveries

These three natural resources skillfully exploited made the upper peninsula of Michigan one of the world's great centers of wealth-producing activity.

Many romantic narrations have been made purporting to describe Mr. Agassiz's discoveries in that copper field. None of them surpassed in real, because true, romance the story of his achievement. He was brilliantly educated as a man of science, and had served for a time on the United States Coast Survey. It was presumed that he, like his father, was indifferent to money, and would be content if he earned enough to maintain himself in a modest way and pursue his scientific investigation.

However, there was the business side of his intellectual equipment which was to be revealed after he took hold of these copper properties. He had little or no money himself, but he knew well where to go to get needed funds. Boston had for some years shown great favor toward mining properties, although some sad experiences had been the lot of those who ventured to speculate in far Western mining enterprises.

Aid From Business Men

But when Mr. Agassiz went to the men of wealth of Boston, he did not seek those who speculated, but instead the men who had gained fortunes by what is sometimes called legitimate business methods. Moreover, he turned to the inner and select circle of Boston social life. These men had confidence in him, knowing what his professional achievements and attainments were. He sought the aid of the Leons, and they were among Boston's elite. He had but to say the word to the Cabots, the Higginsons, the Quincy Shaws and the Peabodys, and his word was sufficient.

This group, than which no other could better reflect the social and intellectual aristocracy of Boston, having faith in Mr. Agassiz, supplied him with all the funds he needed. Their faith was justified. It was said in Boston at the time of the death of Quincy Shaw, that no small part of his fortune of many millions was the reward he received for placing confidence in Alexander Agassiz.

This inner and select circle has always constituted the real Calumet and Hecla family. Major Higginson said the other day that he trusted him would maintain the same interest in this property that he and his father before him maintained.

Another feature associated with Mr. Agassiz's management and direction of this property is to be found in the lesson which he taught of the value of very high efficiency. He was able through his scientific attainments to give good counsel respecting efficiency. He was one of the first to demonstrate that if there be a better piece of machinery than one in use it is expedient to throw the one in use into the scrap heap and put in the new apparatus.

His scientific attainments were of utmost value at the time of the great fire in the mines, for he would not permit the minors to be deluged with water, but instead infused carbolic acid into the caverns, which quickly put an end to the flames.

Then, too, there was the moral influence instilled by Mr. Agassiz and the others which made it possible to create a considerable city there, where the 10,000 inhabitants live in peace and comfort; and when at evening approached the great hills bring the miners from the bowels of the earth they are heard singing the hymns that speak of peace and of religious faith, coming forth at the top of the mine still singing as though they were content.

In the absence of anything better we might trot out a few regiments of domesticated skunks as our first line of defense.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Minerva

Miss Mary Pollitt has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Caldwell in Chicago.

Miss Lillian O'Neill who has been attending Normal School at Richmond is now visiting relatives in Frankfort.

The Second Annual Tri-County Farmers' Chautauqua will begin next Saturday. Several noted speakers are on the program and the Lyceum Concert Company of Cincinnati will give an elaborate musical program each day, supplemented by the German-town Band. This will be a splendid opportunity for the farmers to gain a great deal of invaluable information on the newest methods in farming, all the while being royally entertained and finally it will be all as free as the nlr.

Among those noticed at the Brooks-ville dance Thursday night were Messrs. Russel Haughey, Thomas and William Parker, Joseph Dwyer, Wm. and Glenn Wallingford, Raymond Henson, Lew McNamara, Will Asbury and Misses Elizabeth Asbury, Margaret, Minnie, Josie and Little Coughlin, Dorothy Best and her visitor, Miss Anna Wilson of Lawrenceburg.

Minerva enjoyed an unexampled event in her history Monday when a real circus came to town, giving a genious street parade and quite an interesting exhibition under canvas.

Miss Terie Weaver is home after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Weaver of Huntington, W. Va.

Mr. Joseph Dwyer left Monday for Pittsburgh, Pa., to accept a place with the Westin Glove Company.

CUT SHIP IN TWO WITH GAS

(New York Times)

The freighter George E. Warren, of Boston, which has been in dry dock in Erie Basin since Saturday, has been out in two admiralships in order to add 50 feet to her length. Years ago it was a tedious job to saw through the steel plates of a ship, but with the modern method of using gas jets the engineers cut the hull as though made of paper.

The steamship measured 2,306 gross tons before she was altered, and will be 2,800 tons and 300 feet long when she leaves the dry dock. As the engines were not and the whole of the forward part of the vessel was devoted to hold space the operation of lengthening her is not difficult.

POSTUM

This famous food-drink is made of prime wheat, roasted with a hit of wholesome molasses. It has a flavor much like that of the higher grades of mild Java coffee, but is absolutely free from the drug, caffeine, in coffee, or any other harmful substance—free from all coffee tannines.

Postum is delicious and comes in two forms. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled. Instant Postum is a soluble powder—made in the cup by adding hot water. The flavor is the same and the cost about equal. Both kinds are good for young and old, and satisfy the craving for a hot, aromatic, mealtime beverage.

IS MAYSVILLE INTERESTED IN THE TURNPIKE SITUATION IN MASON COUNTY?

Maysville with an assessment in excess of $4,000,000 contributes almost one-third of the total turnpike taxes in Mason county, and I should like to ask the question, are Maysville taxpayers consulted about the expenditure of this amount of money? Does not Maysville deserve enough consideration that we might have a representative on the Advisory Board, which has full charge of our turnpike funds? The citizens of Maysville are interested in having good roads for the population of Mason county to travel over in order to get to Maysville. Easy access to this city brings the people of this county in closer touch with us and they come here for various purposes, much oftener, if the roads were kept in decent condition. We are absolutely ignored in the management of our Fiscal affairs. The expenditure of money on our main line turnpikes, last year, does not amount to as much as Maysville pays in taxes, with the exception of the Model Road fare, which was pulled off on the first mile and a half of the Mt. Sterling Turnpike. I do not really think that our officials are guilty of having all this money spent on this road, but they are guilty of allowing the State Engineers to come here and have their own way. I can hardly think that our management was so ignorant to enter into a contract to spend almost $18,000 on 1 1/2 miles of turnpike. Does the average taxpayer think that his interest was looked after, properly, when so much money was spent on such a small amount of roadway? Why is it we have abundance of money to go into jobs of this kind and into the construction of the Lowell bridge foundation, which will cost over $3,000 if our management is permitted by the taxpayers to let such a contract on July 29th, and they have not enough money to keep the water off of even the main line turnpikes. The last few days, the water has been running down the middle of the turnpike in certain parts of this county like an Avalanche, and many are being depreciated in this way, hundred of dollars, per day.

I talked with a man, this morning, who put rock out on a certain road, in this country, and paid for the breaking of same, more than 18 months ago and is still unable to collect the money for the rock, yet, our officials have plenty of money to hire automobiles to carry them on inspection work, trip after trip, and by the way, the provision by law for the hire of automobiles for road officials, is only permitted in counties where the turnpike fund amounts to $50,000 or more.

From the corner of Mrs. Elmen's home, I will describe the Maysville and Wedonia pike, from that point to Maysville. The water is running down the middle of the road on every hill. There are many bad places showing up and there is rock being hauled to repair such places, and there is no effort being made to put breaks upon the hills to keep the water from washing this pike away. This stretch of the Maysville and Wedonia pike is two miles and should have, at least, $75 per mile, spent upon it, each year, and there was $75 per mile spent on it last year, but if you will look at the road today, you would see no results, whatever.

One-half mile east of Maysville on the Maysville and Wedonia pike, I took the Flatrock pike, and I must say, that this road is as sadly neglected as any piece of road I have seen in Mason county, not excepting the Blue Run pike. It is 1 7-10 miles to the Johnson pike to the Flemingsburg county line. This 3 5-10 miles, just mentioned, passes through the highest assessed land on the records in Mason county, I am ashamed to admit, that this condition exists in such a rich community. 10 years ago, this road was in fine condition but through neglect, it has been allowed to wash away, and there has been no repair put upon it of consequence.

On July 19th, I took the Clift Pike, near the home of C. C. Arthur, in Lexington, pursuing its course to Lewisburg, which is 3 4-10 miles.

This road is steep hills most of the way, but Mason county is to be congratulated, that a man of judgment does some work on this pike. This spring, he put water breaks about 30 steps apart on each hill, which carries the water away splendidly and does not permit the road to be washed. I was told by a citizen in the community, that this work did not take but a day to perform, which would not amount to, exceed $15, as I understand, the man used a good force of hands. Now, this pike had $113.40 spent on it last year, and it is entitled to, each year, about $210, and if the man in charge of this road was permitted to spend this money each year, no complaint would be made in this community. This road now is down to bed rock and needs fresh rock, each year, to get same in good shape. There are only two bridges in this stretch of pipe.

I next took up the Mill Creek pike from the Mill Creek end. This pike is 2 6-10 miles in length and is in fair condition, repair, there being breaks upon the hills for part of the way, which are in good shape, but the end towards Maysville is now beginning to wash away, mainly because the breaks are not maintained and kept cleaned out. This road had $141 spent upon it last year, which is within $35 of what it is entitled to, however, the expenditure of this much money does not show up in work upon the road, and Mason county is not getting value received from this money. The bridges on this road, three in number, are in fair condition.

I next took up the one mile of turnpike, known as the Mitchell pike, which is really an extension of the old Blue Lick road. This road is being washed to pieces, no effort, whatever, being made to keep the water from running from the top of the hill to the bottom. Now, there was $52.75 spent last year but the results obtained can nowhere be seen. Now, somebody is responsible for this and most certainly neglect of duty on the part of my official is an infraction of the Kentucky Statutes. The negligence of Mason county is filling up the pool on the farm of Calvert Early. Now, Mr. Early pays his taxes and should not be treated this way. I know this to be a fact because the water was washing the mud into his pool, when I passed.

From the corner of Mrs. Elmen's home, I will describe the Maysville and Wedonia pike, from that point to Maysville. The water is running down the middle of the road on every hill. There are many bad places showing up and there is rock being hauled to repair such places, and there is no effort being made to put breaks upon the hills to keep the water from washing this pike away. This stretch of the Maysville and Wedonia pike is two miles and should have, at least, $75 per mile, spent upon it, each year, and there was $75 per mile spent on it last year, but if you will look at the road today, you would see no results, whatever.

One-half mile east of Maysville on the Maysville and Wedonia pike, I took the Flatrock pike, and I must say, that this road is as sadly neglected as any piece of road I have seen in Mason county, not excepting the Blue Run pike. It is 1 7-10 miles to the Johnson pike to the Flemingsburg county line. This 3 5-10 miles, just mentioned, passes through the highest assessed land on the records in Mason county, I am ashamed to admit, that this condition exists in such a rich community. 10 years ago, this road was in fine condition but through neglect, it has been allowed to wash away, and there has been no repair put upon it of consequence.

On the 1 3-10 mile of the Johnson pike, there was $29.50 spent last year, and that was for a culvert. Now, the water runs in Johnson pike continuously, from end to end. After the rain of Friday, you would have thought it was a creek bed, as there is nothing in this road but the bed rock. Is anybody at fault for this neglect of duty?

I returned to the junction of the Johnson and Flatrock pike and pursued the latter pike to its end at the junction of the Nepton pike. This end of the road is in much better repair, but the water runs the full length of each hill without an obstruction, and the hills are long ones, the result being, that the fine particles of stone are washed to the bottoms of the hills and the bed rock left showing. This branch of the Flatrock pike is also 1 7-10 miles in length, and has 6 bridges on the last 1 7-10 miles, two of which are falling down. They do not need to be replaced with new bridges, as a stone mason, for $10 or $12 apiece, would put them back in good repair, but oh! no, let them fall down and haul cement and sand 15 miles and put in a new concrete bridge, 3 4-10 miles of the Flatrock pike had $130 spent on it last year, and it is entitled to $260.

I next took the Nepton pike which is 2 8-10 miles in length. There was no money spent on it last year, although there is rock broken, lying right opposite almost impassable places in the pike, and I presume, no money is available to spread them. I would think that the Road Engineers would be ashamed to ride through a community that is so sadly neglected as the one through which I am referring to. The Nepton pike should have $150 per year, spent upon it. There are 2 bridges upon it, one about 50 feet long, and the other, a small one. The 50 foot bridge is getting in bad repair, but I think the Road Engineers are trying to slip the Mason county boundary line about 2 miles north, in this vicinity, so that they will not have to repair this road.

I next took the Maysville and Metcalfe Mills pike, which leads towards Ewing, and is the nearest way for that part of Fleming county to come to Maysville, but they do not come that way, because this road has become impassable. The water is washing the hills away, and there is no effort to spend a dollar on this road. There are some 4 or 5 rods of rock, which were broken on this pike about 5 years ago, but most of this rock has been beaten into the earth by the traffic and now only shows as a raised place on the side of the road.

Mr. T. B. Robertson, whose farm adjoins this pike, rode over this road with me, and remarked, that he wanted to show me the worst road he had seen. I told him, that it might be the worst he had seen, but it certainly was not the worst I had seen. Do you think the taxpayers in this vicinity are satisfied, when on this 1 7-10 mile, there was not one dollar spent on it last year, when there should have been $125.00?

The people of Mason county are, at this time, a very badly imposed upon populace. They are almost goaded to the quick, and if I am not badly mistaken, the movement which I am trying to interest taxpayers in is going to result in organization to an end that will mean business in the handling of our fiscal affairs, and not inefficiency, incompetency and negligence.

NEW SERIAL POPULAR

The new serial at the Washington Opera House is proving quite popular and many attended the second episode last evening. This picture is being shown all over the country and is drawing great crowds every where.

POSTAL SAVINGS BREAK ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

New—July 24—June records for postal savings deposits were eclipsed last month when a net gain of more than $3,000,000 was rolled up, quadrupling the net increase for June, 1915, according to figures made public today at the New York post office. The gains were general throughout the country, notably in the smaller industrial centers. Postmasters attribute their increase, it was stated, to the countrywide prosperity of wage earners and to the legislation of May 18, last, which increased the limit on deposits from $100 to $1,000 a month.

Among the cities showing the largest gains for June are New York, $28,912; Brooklyn, $26,205; Detroit, $16,252; Chicago, $12,042; Boston, $9,069; Pittsburgh, $8,304; Cleveland, $4,754; Buffalo, $2,946; Milwaukee, $48,497; Philadelphia, $47,088; Portland, Ore., $46,448; Newark, N. J., $40,337; St. Louis, $39,189; Kansas City, $32,012; Los Angeles, $28,406; San Francisco, $27,724; Jersey City, $23,550; Columbus, O., $22,768; Tacoma, $22,443; Toledo, $20,772; San Diego, $18,631.

On June 30 there were 7,701 post-offices accepting deposits in the United States, Alaska, Porto Rico and Hawaii and the number of depositors approximated 603,000 with $86,000,000 standing to their credit. Eight offices, New York, Brooklyn, Chicago, Boston, Detroit, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and, Portland, Ore., have passed the $1,000,000 mark and these eight hold approximately 42 per cent of all deposits.

There will be no danger of not getting to the grounds this year as there are quite a number of busmen ready to take anyone out. They have begun to realize that they can get a great trade from the campers and are making a great effort this year.

The Greenwood will pass up tonight for Pomeroy.

The Courier will pass up this morning for Pomeroy.

The Greendale will pass down this morning for Cincinnati.

The towboat, J. O. Cole, passed down this morning with a large raft of logs.

The contractors have about finished pumping out the dam. Only the pumping crew is at work at present but they expect to be running full force again by Saturday.

Although the river is falling it is still a good boating stage and a great number of packets are engaged in plying up and down the river. A great revival of river trade is expected within the next few years. This form of travel is again getting very popular.

KICKERS' CORNER

If any one at any time for any reason has any cause to "kick" in any way at anything of any kind, here's the place to say his say. The door is open—walk right in and help yourself, free gratis and for nothing—but don't make your "kicks" too long—it's the short, quick follows that count—and cut.

NOTE: The name of the kicker must accompany the kick, or it'll be kicked into the waste-basket.

Last week we had three "Clean Up" days on which we were warned by the Mayor to clean up our premises. We are of the opinion that to enforce such an order the city should first do a little cleaning up on its own hook in such places as the public dump on the East Second street extension. How about it?

JUST A KICKER.

WILL OPEN MEAT MARKET IN HUNTINGTON

Messrs. William Wels and George Diner of this city will open a meat market in Huntington, W. Va., this coming Saturday.

The new venture will be known as the Wels Meat Market and will be operated on a strictly cash basis. The market will make no deliveries and by this dispensing with a bookkeeper and a delivery boy can sell their meat much cheaper than if operated as most markets are. They say that the price of meat is much higher in Huntington than it is here but with that they will be able to sell meat five cents lower a pound.

The many friends of these young men wish them the best of success in their new venture which is certainly a novel one.

AN OLD PROVERB.

It used to be proverbial that every man (and it is certainly no less true of woman) is either a fool or a physician at forty. This means that every intelligent person must learn so much about caring for his own health that by the time he is forty years of age he can almost be reckoned as a physician.

Why, then, is there so much talk by doctors against "self medication"? A woman can recognize all ordinary ailments without calling on a doctor. If they are ailments distinctive to her sex, she generally knows enough to use that greatest of all remedies for such ailments. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and likewise she is familiar with the standard remedies for other diseases.
